

NAJASO Reads

UPDATED SCHEDULE

NAJASO Reads – A Celebration of Reading
Marcus Garvey Elementary School
Los Angeles, CA
Friday, April 5, 2019

Schedule of Activities

- 11:00 am Arrival – Facility set-up & Student Lunch Period
- 12:00 am General Assembly
- 1:00 pm Readings & Literacy Activity (Group Pictures)
- 1:30 pm Craft Tiles
- 2:30 pm Clean-up
- 3:00pm Guest Departure

Team & Guest Readers

1. Guest Author, Literary Ambassador - TBA
2. Guest Speaker/Author, Sandra Campbell-Notice, Caribbean Literary Festival
3. Patrick Williams, Jamaica Awareness Association of California
4. Nollis Dewar, La Familia Jamaica
5. Ja'nice Wisdom, Founder, Read Across Jamaica Foundation
6. Dr. B. Roy Davidson, NAJASO VP Western USA
/Church Teacher's College Alumni Association
7. Carol Williams, Caribbean Cricket Club
8. Dr. Rudolph Willis MD, Help Jamaica Medical Mission.
9. Hon Judge Barbara Lee, esq , Jamaican Association of Buffalo
10. Beverly Morrison, Jamaican Association of Buffalo

Sponsors/Donations:

TARGET Stores
Positive Promotions
Caribbean Cricket Club
Jamaica Awareness Association of California
Read Across Jamaica Foundation, Inc.

Featured Book; (Information gathered from AMAZON.com)

Guest Speaker/Author: Sandra Campbell-Notice

BIO: Sandra Campbell-Notice is an educator and writer in Southern California. She is a graduate of Hunter College New York, where she earned her BA in Education, and Cal Poly University California where she earned both her MA in Education as well as an Administrative Services Credential.

Her first children's book "My Caribbean Grandma" is to tribute to her maternal grandmother and chronicles what it's like growing up in a rural community on the island of Jamaica. She hopes the book will be an important contribution to discussions about diversity and cultural tolerance. She currently resides in Southern California and when not spending time with her family, reads, continues to be inspired by nature, and writes children's books.